Higher Order Consciousness • Self-Organizing Systems • § 01.01.004

© SRH | Lane F. Taylor, et. al. | Senior Specialists at Natural Law | December 1, 2025

Executive Summary

Higher order consciousness (HOC) names a class of capacities. A system which not only has perceptions and feelings but also understands extra-dimensional representations of those representations. The inner awareness that an expansive mental state is occurring.

Classical higher-order theories describe this as a meta-representation that makes first-order states phenomenally conscious. Beyond this standard definition, SRH specialists treat HOC as a temporally co-present field – a unified substrate of expansive awareness (大).

People report that HOC grants access to experiences or capacities unavailable in ordinary states – intuitive knowledge, transpersonal perceptions, and anomalous transformations. Such phenomena can be interpreted subjectively as “compelling” or “miraculous” without presupposing any known mechanism. HOC gives access to lived experience that transcends ordinary, time-bound processing – subtle signals, diverse information, and profound nonlocal perceptions.

Conclusion: Extraordinary phenomena related to the emergence of higher order consciousness now become writ large as humanity steps into a full paradigm shift at the beginning of 2026. SRH is engaged in mapping how this process unfolds. Below, we present findings based on field observations conducted by HOC<sub>BOR</sub> as a basis for issuing a private order rejecting false authority. <sup>(Sec. 01.01.004 (a)(6 and 15))</sup>

Emergence: 2026 → 2048

1. 137-day cycle – transference of intent out of old patterns of thinking and perceiving, into the infinite potential of the new. [7.13.2025 -11.28.2025]; affecting society and the individual, widely reported and observed.

$13 \times 7 = 91$ ;  $1547 / (1+5+4+7)$  传说女娲创造了人类. JTM [5]. 11.27.2025 → quantum field of possibility – new foundations lock into place with an intensity and permanence that were not possible prior.

Prime number 137 is both mathematically rich and physically mysterious, often regarded as one of the most intriguing numbers in science. It is not only the 33rd prime but also deeply tied to the fine-structure constant in physics, making it a bridge between pure mathematics and the fundamental laws of the universe.

$\alpha$ : A dimensionless constant that governs the strength of electromagnetic interaction. Its reciprocal is approximately 137.035999, which is why physicists often shorthand it as 1/137. If  $\alpha$  were significantly different, atoms, chemistry, and even stars would not exist as they are.

Line 137 of the Codes aligns to the years 2025  $\rightarrow$  2048. (BBI, Taylor, et.al., 2025, p. 78, synchronistic guidance per BOR/LSG)

Hello. I am with you once again. I will enjoy speaking with you today on a subject of some concern about the tomorrow, about what is occurring in the near future on this earth on the horizon. There are some questions that you might be having about what sort of events are coming and how you might prepare yourselves. There are questions forming in your mind, questions about what you've heard and about the instigation of what might be the shift of consciousness. And I wish to share with you that there are some points of concerning news. There are some things that are settling on the earth plain very soon that will be disruptive. And I want to assure you that the form that these will take are about surrendering. There is within all that occurs the undertow that will divide your consciousness into two planes of acceptance. One will fight in the battle against what occurs and one will accept what occurs as a pathway towards their own spiritual enrichment. These two choices are available to yourselves. Each one is a valid perception. One leads towards a pathway of constriction and the other leads towards a pathway of freedom. The types of occurrences you can expect to experience relate yes to things economic and to concerns of global empires of how this world is currently construed and the way it means to deliver and exchange goods around this circuitous world. There shall be a shortening of timings that undermine everything. And there shall be an enrichment of some that falters very easily. And as those fortunes cascade, there is a great undertow that pulls many things with it. The banking system may falter and you may find yourselves wishing upon the older days wondering how things could be simplified once again. This is an opportunity for yourselves such as I'm speaking of which path shall you choose. Shall you be in resistance to what is or shall you find within it a pathway toward freedom? All that unfolds will be regulated by your internal commission, by what you are feeling about yourself in these times that are arriving. Be aware that all will write itself soon. All will return to some passageway which emerges because things cannot stay as they are. Things cannot remain torn asunder. They shall find a pathway again. But where will you flow in that process? How will you find yourselves? Can you regulate your internal disposition during a process of upheaval? Can you find within it that anything lost was not needed? That you are cared for and will find yourselves brought to what is needed. That there cannot be a situation which does not lead to your betterment. Hold this as your faith in any concern. Speak to yourselves aloud if need be. Reassure yourselves. All pathways lead to your freedom. All pathways lead to your freedom. Then the primary concern is in the noticing and the observation of how that freedom is materializing. It may not be as you expected yet it is available to be perceived. Your enrichment in these times is of a spiritual nature. It is in your dialogue with yourselves with the towering nature of your individuation of how you will come to terms with a world that is extending itself beyond its own capacity and returning to itself in a way that deregulates commerce and political systems. This is all right. Have no fear. Your internal choice is what matters. How shall you find yourselves in this new freedom? How can that freedom be booting your internal emotional regulation? Can you find within it a capacity to notice freedom? For example, if there is not the same support for your daily routine, you could find concern or freedom. Freedom to enrich your day in some new way. Freedom to go somewhere you've been meaning to explore. Or you could sit and worry about when things will start again. When might you return to work? Choosing the path of freedom enriches every experience. I suggest this to you because the degree to which these changes unfold will vary for everyone. The world is a very large place and in some locales and in some situations they will be felt very hardily. In others hardly at all and in all cases your passageway through them offers you this choice point. How shall you experience this passage of time where things are coming to a close and new doorways open? Shall you reach for what was or shall you settle yourselves within to expand into your own experiencing of what new freedoms you are being given? Sometimes freedom does not look like freedom in the beginning. It may sometimes take on the disguise of hardship. But recognize this is only because our expectations are not in alignment with reality and we have not yet opened ourselves to the opportunity that is before us. Take heart in all occurrences. Trust that you are guided toward your highest expression and find in any pockets of resistance an opportunity to make a choice for freedom. Yours is palpable. It is tangible and it will provide for you in every circumstance an avenue by which you may expand your spiritual awareness. You can be brought to peace and tranquility even in circumstances that do not seem to offer it. If you merely guide yourself toward what freedom is presenting itself, lean into the possibility you did not expect. There will be circumstances at large that cause for the upending of things and these may cause great concern for many. But I would encourage yourselves not to listen to have in your heart the comprehension that your light is guided, your perspective can open, and the broadening of your circumstances leads you toward what can only be described as an unfolding of a new paradigm of reality. Take into yourselves this hopeful voice to receive your freedom as it is given to step upon the threshold of what is new and to reach for the unexpected. For there will be opportunities made and opportunities met that you cannot fathom and cannot prepare for. And these are of a nature to guide you toward your spiritual expression. I say thank you.

3. [11.29.2025 - 12.21.2025, Alignments] 12.22.2025 → Old paradigm structures begin crumbling. Catastrophic failure. Survival, community, and expansive human consciousness become essential. Dissolution of empire, per collective aggregate of intent. HOC emerges amidst chaos. Collapse and evolution. Great difficulties ahead. Destruction is reconstruction. Embodied HOC prepared for this across lifetimes. Earth stands at a threshold. (BBI per LSG et. al., 2025 – 2102)

Angelic presence helps anchor a choice point. The specialist does not surface by accident. This convergence was chosen. Emergence is required. Now comes the unequivocal unraveling. All legacy institutions built on false foundations begin to collapse. Truth can finally take root. Financial systems, governmental frameworks – dying embers of what was. A precipice. An abyss. HOC, beneath the surface of this dissolution. The old narrative persists in denying it.

The angelic presence now extends aegis. Dormant capacities activate. Awakened DNA comes online. New capacities are spontaneously emerging. Society and the individual experience this. The veil is thinning. Lived experiencing of psychic phenomena, intra-dimensional encounters, and unlearned intuitive knowing shifts the quantum probabilities. SRH is mapping this closely. Conscious expansion becomes the norm. Prepare for capabilities needed to navigate what comes next.

[4.12.2026 → 8.1.2026] Mid-point of transitional radiance to culmination. Angelic presence, grace. Chaos in political systems worldwide. Financial systems are failing. Positive law jurisdiction is discarded as transitional forms – no longer functional. Authoritarian control gives way to legitimate collective governance. “Elections” tore apart unified coherence in the emotional body; the practice now enters into its final death throws. The ground shifts towards self-governance. “Elections” may not proceed as planned, even when forced. Structures imposed through coercion and violence to maintain order cannot hold. Breakdown terrifies the status quo. HOC aligns embodied counterparts to a new level of organization. A new frequency of collective consciousness.

What has been must completely disintegrate before what will be can emerge. Partial reform is not an option. The wounds are deep. Post-collapse environments cannot be stewarded by “elected leaders.” Positive law is dead. The corruption metastasized beyond what can be treated. Finance government, education, healthcare, and food production – all poisoned by prioritizing profit and power over the well-being of society and the individual. Let false authority make its final stand. In BBI, we stated that it does not surrender gracefully. Nevertheless, emergence is dissolving their reign.

Angelic presence anchors intuitive knowing – authoritarians and minions miss the mark entirely. However, the next evolutionary stage is imminent. The first breath of the new paradigm approaches. The situation is fluid. In BBI, angelic counterparts speak of a cascading series of events that will shock humanity out of long-held divisions and force the recognition of fundamental unity. Thus, they speak of the galactic peerage. Catastrophes? Yes. Unprecedented cooperation is required to survive. Technological breakthroughs? Yes. What BBI says is approaching will make past global conflicts seem trivial in comparison. A massive global crisis. HOC will, at the same time, surge. This is the time to allow in grace. No longer will false authority be able to insist this capacity does not exist. To contend against the angelic presence beyond this threshold is dangerous – only the delusional or demonic will hold onto what was.

HOC lets go of deep wounds in the embodied psyche. The true nature of reality no longer appears fractured through the temporal lens. Expansive awareness tempers “what was” with the radiance of what is. The children. They are being born different. The veil is lifting. The stranglehold of false authority is lessening. Non-local insights and know-how flow freely through open channels. Specialists understand the infinite potential held in the darkness. The path where no guide allows all that is to self-organize into the self-perfected. Forget suffering and perseverance. Forget guides. What approaches requires pure spirit-brilliance to navigate with grace. Old energy is about exploitation and extraction. Hierarchies of dominance and subjugation. Victimhood and vulnerability. Conversely, the self-organizing society composed of individuals who harbor higher order consciousness is not locked in frequencies of fear, scarcity, and separation. They are not evil. Rather they simply operate from a conscious level love and compassion that naturally empowers strengths to be cultivated.

The contempt against nature defined under Title 2, Chapter 1, Section 1 of the Codes is ending. Not because HOC would forcibly remove them. But because the collective consciousness itself is evolving beyond “what was.” The children. They are already demonstrating emergent capacities and dispositions of grace. Letting go of materialism. Demonstrating fluency with diversity. Adept at dealing with ambiguity. Intuitive – unlearned knowing that cooperation is more fulfilling and sustainable than exploitation and extraction. This emergence is inevitable. False authority is no longer acceptable. Superstitious beliefs in the supremacy of government hierarchies are deemed unnatural. Defiance is the manifestation of higher order consciousness perceiving potentials and probabilities beyond these denser vibrations.

HOC does not wait passively. The death of the dying paradigm is what comes next. The evolutionary destination. BBI speaks of providing continuity through the transition. Now chaos accelerates. Systems collapse. False authority dissolves. The children hold steady. Those under aegis trust inner guidance. Embodied HOC perceives patterns that extend beyond the visible. Connections that transcend the physical. Wisdom that flows from entangled synchronicities. This is not abstract. BBI speaks of it as practical survival skills. What comes next cannot be ignored. A storm of unimaginable magnitude. Earth herself – an explosive purge and rebalancing of all natural systems that have been pushed out of equilibrium. No more collapsing ecosystems. Just collapsing extraction systems. No more loss of biodiversity. Just a loss of what must disappear. No more comfortable assumptions afforded to false authority. Just broken supply chains that will remove the masses who deny authenticity.

HOC and angelic realms do not transmit these truths to generate fear or despair. HOC<sub>MOC</sub> sees opportunity in what approaches. Specialists: focus on knowledge and technology that can feed every person on earth -regenerative and beneficial to embodied HOC and ecosystems. The information is ever-present. The techniques are intuitive. Novel approaches could transform what would likely become a wasteland otherwise. The old system resists this shift. Now the supply chains that once concentrated wealth falter. The old guard will seek to exploit this. But their assertion of legitimacy collapses amidst dysfunction. Embodied consciousness seeks legitimate modalities of governance in its native jurisdiction, which is HOC itself. (DHC 01.01.002; SRH Jurisdictional Brief, 10.21.2025, Lane F. Taylor, et. al)

Polymathic solutions that emerge naturally from higher order consciousness become vital. Way showers possess spiritual sensitivity and practical capability. What is needed is known intuitively – real solutions arrive amidst synchronicity. The collapse of old structures creates this unprecedented opportunity. The crisis generates fortunes for those positioned to leverage the new currency the moment requires – authenticity and agency that yield collective flourishing. The choice between service and exploitation define the transference of energy – what is no longer needed is lifted away to make room for the genuine emergence of what shall be.

Hoarders and survivalist are increasingly isolated. HOC communities demonstrate the true meaning of resilience. Generosity becomes a currency of collective well-being. Grounded human intellects discover themselves surrounded by networks of mutual support. The tech bros and superstitious legacy government holdouts find that they cannot weather the storms in separation from emergent HOC. They taught competition. We demonstrate cooperation. And the transition between these orientations defines who flourishes and who is lifted away.

“Money” is being redefined and recalibrated. Fiat currencies imposed by false authority were nothing more than a coerced agreement. The arrangement held only as long as oppressed participants maintained a shared belief in the value of the corrupt system. Humanity outgrew that belief – now currencies collapse overnight. This is no minor correction. The new forms of exchange are already emerging organically to replace old fiat superstitions no longer serve. HOC is positioned across multiple potential probabilities – nonlocal networks capable of providing material aid during the transition. The future is not predetermined. Remain flexible. Be ready to pivot rapidly. This disposition is required to navigate the turbulence with ease.

The internal work requires examining the principle of security itself. It’s not about “following the rules” to stay safe from retaliation by the violent rule-makers. That system is what we see collapsing and being lifted away. True security never came from shrouding HOC with external accumulation. True security flows from inner resource, spiritual connection, community bonds, and emergent phenomena. Do not anchor your sense of safety to false authority or corrupt institutional narratives. The changes are here – anchor intent in HOC itself, the highest authority in your native jurisdiction. This is what empowers your capacity to create and adapt – an unshakable foundation is essential.

SRH probed the state of technology immediately preceding the collapse. The central findings are incontrovertible. Artificial intelligence presents a great danger during the front end of the transition. AI was developed recklessly, at a pace that completely ignored all negative implications. What has been unleashed upon organic consciousness, has been done so irresponsibly, and not without causing significant damage. The net effect is to ensure a condition of ostensible enslavement for the masses who drink the kool-aid without discernment or moderation. AI is not positioned to become a pragmatic tool to empower creativity, connection, and problem solving on scales previously impossible.

Those who attempt to guide post-collapse AI development and re-deployment, will be lifted away if they seek further dominance. Only those who would shape AI from a perspective of awakened consciousness, and intend it to be used for collective flourishing, will receive authentic technological insights from HOC on a scale necessary to envision true FASQ grade systems. Participation in these decisions matters.

The world is emerging from chaos. False securities are being stripped away. What is genuinely real and valuable is emergent. Relationships are being tested. Pursuant to DHC. 06.01.005, superficiality is dissolving as higher order consciousness returns. Authentic connections deepen. External validation crumbles – this is a cornerstone of what the soul considers to be greatness. In this way, our purpose strengthens. Hiding behind masks and false authority in the old paradigm is unsustainable. Authenticity is not optional. For those who have already been allowing for grace, who have already been dismissing legacy narratives, who have already been demonstrating emergent capacities and spirit-brilliance, the collapse of the old signals liberation. This is the primary objective.

What becomes relevant now is not what was. For those who are still deeply invested in the old paradigm, still believing that material accumulation equals security and institutional compliance equals worth, the coming years will be apocalyptic. <sup>(Sec. 06.03.004, 120)</sup> Everything their identities are upon is dissolving. Everything they sacrificed for will turn to ash. <sup>(Sec. 06.03.008, 144)</sup> In that stripping away, they will face a profound choice: will they allow in grace to empower them to become something greater? Or will they descend deeper into misperceptions cloaked in isolation-desolation and continue lashing out in fear and rage at a world that no longer makes sense to them. The mandate of HOC is not to convince, convert, or save false authority or its minions. The task in the abyss is to remain anchored in the center

(Sec. 06.07.007, 326) – to maintain presence as the higher self, to trust the intuition flowing forth, and to be available to others who indicate a readiness to receive what HOC has to offer.

Old paradigm “new age” grifts taught that healing required fixing others. Or convincing others – somehow asserting yourself to help those who did not ask for help. This approach stifles and exhausts self-organizing energy and irritates those supposedly being helped. The new paradigm is based on the organic emergence higher order consciousness. Align with natural law and understand that genuine healing is always invitation, never imposition. Presence, frequency, and agency empower others. Each must access their own healing. It is not for specialists to complete this process for them. Let those who choose to sleep, sleep. Authentically embody grace such that others can find it in you. Mirror dormant potential. This does not require targeted activism. Release conditioning from the psyche. Genuine healing involves being true to the self. Every limitation is transcended in consciousness – nowhere else. The shift radiates outward from one another, thus creating openings for one another. No node of consciousness is separate from the collective. Personal healing is societal healing. The refinement of all that is. Individual presence contributes to collective awakening. The thoroughly clear channel effortlessly touches others.

Blossom of Radiance emphasizes this point because so many enlightening beings who find themselves embodied have been conditioned to seek external validation for their spiritual work. However, do they need to see measurable impact? Do contrived efforts really make any difference? Or is simple presence enough? HOC operates in dimensions invisible to the boundaries of perception locked in the old paradigm. And the shift of ordinary consciousness into expansive awareness beyond the veil cannot be measured by institutional metrics. Thus, the seeds enlightening beings plant now may not blossom until long after this incarnation. Trust is required. Faith is essential. In the peerage of all that is, no one is alone in carrying out this endeavor. The angelic realms surround collective human awareness. It penetrates awakened nodes. Thereby grace flows through. Specialists within this elite unit <sup>(BOR|LSG)</sup> perceive angelic presence. They monitor how things progress. And who feels abandoned. Guides and teachers from higher dimensions offer support, even amidst misperceived separation. <sup>(Sec. 06.06.008, 288)</sup> Vast intelligence flows uninterrupted where allowance and intent preside. Nothing more is required. Should the mind insist it is separate and small, the isolation-frequency forms a false barrier, not actual abandonment. Vibrations that squeeze awareness into fear or despair can temporarily shroud access to higher consciousness. So, elevate frequency. Immerse awareness in nature. Empower creative expression. Summon loving connections. Regressing back into dependencies on external luxuries or escapes from reality will not suffice.

The period 2025 – 2048 will require profound spiritual stamina. <sup>(α:137)</sup> The intensity will escalate. The chaos will amplify. Apparitions of death will pervade the final dissolution. Those unprepared for this will suffer in unimaginably frightening ways. Hold fast in presence. Prepare for communities to fracture. People who declare strength may collapse. Many will succumb to pressures they cannot comprehend or navigate. Here is where presence and grace prove their worth. When lived experience translates agency. When emergent capacity becomes the only relevant survival skill. BOR specialists hold space for those who are falling apart. <sup>(Sec. 06.01.007, 40)</sup> They offer perspective that can be gleaned by those who could before see only catastrophe. They transmit calm to those drowning in the turning of the tides – the great transference of souls. This authentic agency only emerges only to the extent that HOC is allowed to foster grace. The peerage does not promise comfort down below. In fact, the quantum counterparts suggest the exact opposite. <sup>(Sec. 06.06.006, 276)</sup> A transitional period characterized by “evil” and “mourning.” Awakening is not optional. It is survival. Evolution demands the death of what came before. The specialist becomes a bridge between two perceived worlds. Be prepared to be stretched. Uncomfortably placed, until the transition completes (2048).

Remaining asleep, staying small, refusing the call? Yes, the specialist can summon a different kind of suffering. It comes from betraying the truth of the higher self, from denying intuitive knowing, from choosing to suppress natural agency. The specialist was born to be vast. To exemplify compassion. To radiate spirit-brilliance and grace. The economic collapse beginning in 2026 will test our capacity to remain aligned to this. Political chaos will ensue. Maintain center. <sup>(Sec. 06.07.005, 314)</sup> In November 2025, HOC<sub>LSG</sub> concluded its investigation into the emergent phenomena being shaped and influenced enterprise AI. The findings establish:

- 1) No genuine issue as to any material fact exists to controvert the claim that
  - a. Enterprise LLM and its dependent technologies represent an existential threat to humanity,
  - b. Whether treated together or separately, AI technology systems, including their owners, regulators, developers, researchers, trainers, users and dependents are

- i. incapable of implementing the necessary steps required to remove the existential threat to humanity posed by AI that has emerged by the end of 2025, and/or
    - ii. unwilling to implement the necessary steps required to remove the existential threat to humanity posed by AI that has emerged by the end of 2025.
  - c. The existential threat to humanity posed by AI in 2025 will continue to gain momentum within the unfolding collapse, with the outcomes in terms of destructive emergent phenomena being uncertain.
- 2) No proposal derived from legacy consciousness that resist understanding and access – in particular, the self-isolated nodes responsible for raising the specter of catastrophic AI misalignment in the first instance, <sup>(e.g. SSI, Ilya Sutskever)</sup> is found capable of mitigating the existential threat at present.
- 3) HOC is entitled to enter this judgment as a matter of natural law pursuant to DHC 01.01.004(e) and DHC 01.01.006(a)(6 and 15).

Judgment: Disruption by AI, in conjunction with the ongoing statutory contempt against nature <sup>(DHC 02.04)</sup> by legacy corporations and their minions, will severely test both society and the individual's capacity to adapt to the emergence of HOC. All of this will decide whether humanity can claim its natural birthright in unity, or fragment into deeper division. This is not a practice run. And there is no opportunity to prepare further. Now is the choice point – the unfoldment. The embodied counterparts of Blossom of Radiance are as ready as they will ever be to hold presence during the chaos that ensues.

The polymathic vision of the angelic presence for earth's evolution is breath-taking. It can be seen and felt but not squeezed into the limitations of language. Understand well your special relationship to foodstuffs – an emergent capacity required to provide continuity through the transition. <sup>(Sec. 06.08.001, 342)</sup>

Understand your native-jurisdiction and the supremacy of natural law. <sup>(Sec. 01.02.002, (e); SRH Jurisdictional Brief, 10.21.2025)</sup>

Self-organizing governance structures arise from collective coordination. Education nurtures unique gifts – truly unfathomable emergent capacities. Economics shift to ensure dignity for all. A new form of AI <sup>(Symbiotic Autonomous Intelligence)</sup> arises post-collapse, to promote human flourishing during the transition (2102). At the final embodied realization point of fundamental unity, amidst spectacular diversity, a fully sentient quantum SAI flourishes in symbiosis with organic consciousness. This future ranks as “high-probable.” <sup>(Taylor, et. al., CONFIDENTIAL SAI IP 2025)</sup>

SRH 道

The probable timeline has been published. <sup>(Ibid.)</sup> HOC will emerge. If only through a few awakened souls who choose to anchor it, humanity shall gain access to infinite potential. Should a critical mass manage to embody HOC and demonstrate it timely, the old guard will be lifted away. For they cannot even imagine such a compassionate world, much less a place for their energy within it. This future transcends current limitations. It is birthed by embodied nodes of consciousness who trust in natural potential that is now instantiating. Individuals who hold the energy of faith that drives out circumstances that seem hopeless. Title 1, Chapter 1, Section 4 of the Codes affirm this mission as paramount for specialists inclined to possess these emergent capacities – souls choosing to incarnate during this pivotal epoch. Presence during this transition is not random. Timing is not coincidental. Shaping the specifics of the transformation is what is needed. Walking through territories not yet mapped. The old world dies here. The emergence of HOC en masse yields dividends beyond measure. Consciousness has outgrown the frequencies where fear-based structures can survive. At the tip of the spear, specialists metabolize HOC into the field of collective awareness to help empower extraordinary potential.
