Memorandum: Exiting the Spiritual Marketplace

Divine Presence • Grace • Authenticity

The voice of expansive consciousness, however named, rings true. However, any message refashioned by the personality structure for sale in the marketplace, does not. In this memorandum, we address what is coming next.

SRH gratefully acknowledges the exemplar Anandamayi Ma, who served embodied humanity as a natural channel of the divine for 86 years. Throughout her life, Ma never referred to her own personality structure. Instead, she identified wholly as divine presence, and all who met her reported feeling this. She never once entered the marketplace to extract human attention or resources. Ma offered her presence freely, honoring rich and poor alike with spontaneous channelings that were unique to each moment and each seeker. No education, no credentials, no vocation, and no possessions – yet Ma was beloved and revered by all whom entered into her powerful presence.

As ambassadors here to represent a regency of expansive consciousness during the changes, we treat the example set by Ma as a preview of the higher agreement that will supersede all antecedents of spiritual claims and methodologies in the new octave. As always, all our offerings are freely offered as we acknowledge the shift to presence alone. In this way, we can preemptively acclimate to a more coherent terrain with no spiritual marketplace or self-appointed celebrity channels. Only free roaming exemplars who choose to honor natural grace. This is what will transform society and the individual. Nothing else.
