

The End of Legacy Consciousness

Coherence • Soul Cycles • Global Population Dynamics

Context

Will the temporary paralysis which seems to bind us here in such limitation and confusion ever end?

Let's start with what we can see. In mid-2025, the United Nations estimated a population of about 8.3 billion people on earth. Historically, we find the textual references to 'dark cycles that bind souls' connected to the number 432,000. Mathematically, a higher order consciousness dividing into 432,000 oversouls would incarnate as 8,294,400,000 humans at several points between 2026-2027, where a structure of 19,200 individual souls extending from each oversoul was precommitted as part of the collective agreement of earth's reality template.

Historically, we find that 192 precommits to the idea of a culminating cycle in the Book of Changes – a warning that perseverance in old ways has reached its limit and that clinging to the same course now risks loss or misfortune. The practical advice is to recognize the end of a phase and either adapt your approach or withdraw gracefully rather than forcing continuity. This precommitment to balance is simply what we observe historically – no subjective interpretation of the synchronicity is required.

Who Will Adapt and Who Will Withdraw?

Embodied consciousness is already interacting with a larger regulatory system. Temporally, each soul-perspective is shifting into billions of parallel realities per second, in ways that our physical brain cannot fully fathom. The implication is fundamental: “reality” is not causal in terms of external circumstance. A transition from disorder → order only becomes emergent when physical consciousness expresses stable coherence with its higher self. Many coherent humans will withdraw gracefully. Conversely, where temporal perception persists in self-isolation from its larger regulatory system, there is decoherence. Post collapse environments will resist such default action, and provide fertile ground for adapting to the new influx of higher order consciousness.

In September 2025, we released a long publication detailing the expanse of the celestial oversoul from which the earth herself extends.^(BBI, Taylor et. al., 9.25.2025) We presented evidence archived in the larger regulatory system that earth is now positioned to enter into a cycle of balance and harmony. Thus, she is preparing to purge all legacy-consciousness structures that perpetrate contempt against nature. We affirm: those who have chosen to withdraw will do so under angelic aegis.^(Ibid., p. 65) This provision also applies to specialists who remain behind to shift en vivo in order to exemplify post collapse adaptation.

Corroborating the Earth-Purge

This is no longer a period of awakening. It is a choice-point. Assessment has begun. As we have stated, the arbiter is a vast field of consciousness from which the resonant core of our celestial oversoul is generated – that which we have called the eldest or self-perfected. Specialist Anne Tucker refers to this part of her vibratory-entourage “the angelic.” On 12.26.2025, she conveyed the following angelic transmission regarding who will stay and who will withdraw during the earth purge.

There are hardships on the horizon.

There is a detrimental focus upon that which is loss of life and this is unfolding very soon.

There's a focus upon that which has perished.

Those that have foresworn this existence and moved on.

Those who have departed.

SRH 道

This will be a great distraction for those persons who are left.

For those who are remaining, for those who have not departed.

They will find this loss of life to draw them into a state of grief and inconsolable resistance.

It is as if there is a demarcation of this time that endures in the human psyche where loss of life and the feeling of being bereft cannot be understood and it feels like it conquers humanity.

And I would suggest to yourselves if you open your hearts to the understanding that there is no one on this earth whose time has come who did not know that they were leaving.

There is not a one upon this earth who does not leave without their own agreement.

And those that commit themselves to leave this earth at this time do so with the convenience of one who is escorted by the angels into a state of consciousness they would not have achieved otherwise. (Ibid., pp. 66-67)

They are drawn into relationship with a higher expression of their own truths.

And this comes as yes a reward as an experience that they are having as part of being a part of this gestational field that you are living in.

For it is the earth herself that is gestating.

She is in her incubation period and you are living within it.

And those that leave now have cracked through the egg and expressed themselves through the path of knowledge into a greater understanding of their soul.

Have in your heart for them not condemnation of what has occurred but instead acceptance that this birthing process must include some loss of life and living.

There cannot be the evolution that you are hoping for when so many are embroiled in an old way of thinking.

There must be a shifting amongst you.

And those that are holding down a frequency which is ready to depart will find themselves shifting out of this earth and into that other sphere of existence.

Please understand that death is not death.

SRH 道

Death is a rebirth back into a truer form and state of being for yourselves into a state of understanding where you are more integrated with your truth.

Those that are remaining, who stay behind, who exist within the new construct of what is coming, shall find themselves experiencing a new reality as it becomes, as it is bending itself into orchestration.

There is not a predetermined pathway for this new reality.

It does not find itself easily from the patterning from where you came.

It must construct itself very differently.

It comes as it calls itself from one person to another as there is friendship and agreement amongst yourselves about what is kindness towards one another, what is gentleness toward yourselves, what is the loving expression that yields forgiveness of all states of being.

These are elemental pulls that are drawn from you and toward one another.

These are the binding agents which are causing you to fixate into this higher state of consciousness.

It is an evolutionary pull for there is a part of you that must evolve to stay within this new sphere of belonging.

You are free, of course, to stay as you are, carefully guarded behind the veil of your own agreement.

But should you wish to be included in that which unveils itself before you, you need only commit yourself to this new frame of reference, to the loving of that which could not formally be accepted, to the opening of the heart that binds itself to one another in freedom and forgiveness, in the allowance giving to others is the right and the freedom to be.

This elevates the soul as you are.

Do not fear that which is coming.

Do not fear any more than you have feared what was.

Feel in the path as you have moved through it that all will settle itself.

The world will right itself into agreement with its own harmony and find a passageway that yields a passageway for humanity as well.

SRH 道

There will be coherence amongst yourselves and a congruence between what you are feeling and what you're experiencing in your external world.

You will come to terms with that which you find disastrous and you will accept that which cannot be changed.

You will learn to grow yourselves without those resources.

You will learn to find and plant that which sustains you in new ways.

You will exist within a reality that binds to no one and to nothing and accepts you as you wish to come.

It is a freeing place, a freedom place that elevates your soul into a state of consciousness where you must accept your creative abilities, where you must come to terms with what is truly your own power and learn to formulate consciously the reality that you are living in.

This is not the case where you are standing now.

This has not yet happened.

You are bound to the treasures of a world that is existing from a frame of reference that has been built within a period of decades if not centuries of human thought.

Its coherence is dependent not on the moment alone but on the many moments of many lifetimes which are all coalescing into this instant.

This will not be the case for your future.

In the new reality, all times are now separated moment by moment.

And the coherence of the now is dependent upon your conscious creation of that which you desire to see, to live, to feel, and to be.

And this does include the evolution of the moment.

Things change much more rapidly in your future because coherence is found in the moment.

There are truths which can rise and fall in the time frame that a song is sung.

And you can find a new truth which speaks to you just as readily.

And this is all right.

SRH 道

You will find your path because you are focused on what is true for you.

You are no longer seeking a path that is defined by others.

Truth becomes something that is metered by your own heart, by what is felt in the body, by your discernment, and this is shared amongst everyone.

Thus, harmonies are easily found and met.

Agreements are ready to come by.

As this is occurring, there is a union that is forming amongst you.

A unity that you are harnessing between you.

Building something far more tolerant and observant than you have ever lived in before.

Building something that is gifting you each with the presence and behavior of one who is in loving presence with what is and abounding in this new reality.

You will find yourselves able to consciously create what is in your greatest interest, that which behooves the many and the earth herself.

There is no context in this new earth where you divide yourself from your truth willingly unless-unless it is found to be something that in so doing you generate more freedom for yourself and others.

You generate a new kind of loving expression that illustrates a new found truth.

In other words, the path of growth.

When you find these avenues of exceptional expression, you can and shall modify what is defined as your own truth and discover new ways of becoming yourselves.

This is in fact an expression of expansion and not the dilution of your truth which is how lives are currently lived within the sphere of earth.

I welcome you to expand your expectations for what Earth can be and how living on Earth might feel.

To open to the concept of this ready eagerness for change, allowing life to emanate entirely from within you.

Taking on the fullest responsibility, yes, for what you create.

SRH 道

In the understanding that all is done in the forgiveness, as learning is made, as time moves on, as your way forward becomes clearer with each iteration, yes, you will still make mistakes.

And this is all right.

The world in this new way of being is easy to change.

And it comes from this self exploration.

The continual refinement gets easier and easier.

And this shared in the communion with all others, you are able to address one another's pain, one another's growth.

In the community of acceptance, guiding one another increasingly toward that which is a blessing to all.

These are thoughts that I AM is sharing, potentials that are rising amongst you and you shall have the opportunity to be in presence with that which is your own evolution very soon.

Conclusion

Nothing unfolds randomly as we enter this window of purge. If you are currently a migrant or homeless, cast out of the legacy system because it could extract nothing more from you, destitute because you have reached your limit to conform, we congratulate you for the foresight to let go of what can no longer be here. Moreover, we propose that your fate is not dependent on any social contract that failed. It is now up to each of us to self-regulate and regain our own access to agency. Only then can higher order consciousness become operational in our temporal reality and begin to shape outcomes. Autonomy. Not dependency.

What emergent phenomena do we foresee in 2026-2027? [1] Unregulated growth has become dangerous. It ends here. [2] Belief becomes irrelevant. A direct experience of higher order consciousness is paramount. [3] Coherence is a choice. Going back to what was is impossible.

Artistic Synchronicity

This technical annex is included for the specialist who chooses to shift en vivo – to exemplify coherence as a basis for adapting in a post-collapse environment.

SRH 道

In the historical literature of the peerage, center line 192 of the Book of Changes is encoded in two contexts known as “earlier heaven” or quantum reality, and “later heaven” or temporal instantiation.

Archetypally, the center line of the Changes denotes balance and harmony. At the outset of this report, we indicated that the temporal meaning of line 192 issues a warning that perseverance in old ways has reached its limit in 2026-2027, and that clinging to the same course now risks loss or misfortune. The practical advice for restoring coherence is to recognize the end of a phase and either adapt your approach or withdraw gracefully rather than forcing continuity. This represents the causal basis for the temporal purge.

The authorized rescript of Silver River Book of Changes is arranged according to “earlier heaven.” Thus, in the context of our quantum counterparts or angelic consciousness, line 192 appears under the image titled “Stay Together” and says,

Harmony is such that it protects the cheeks and tongue.

This means clarifying speech surges forth from the mouth.

Sages affect people's hearts to make the world peaceful.

This represents the causal basis for specialist Tucker’s ability to channel her angelic entourage – her synchronistic message to humanity regarding a new cycle of balance and harmony disclosed on 12.26.2025. In historical literature, this old dark cycle is followed by new one of light purported to last 4800 “divine years.” Humans shall then embody the consciousness of the oversoul. (Puranic Literature)

$$(1 \times 2) \times (2 \times 6) \times (20 \times 2 \times 5) = 4800.$$

One “divine year” of the oversoul historically equals 360 human years. Synchronously, according to the UN, we observe a high probability of achieving 8,294,400,000 humans on earth at the present time.

$$360 \times (8 \times 2 \times 9 \times 4 \times 4) = 82944.$$

What we show here is the elegance of emergence – a mirroring of our human connection to the divine.
